Dear General Lewis:

As you are aware, CIA uses a personal rank career system somewhat similar to the officer panels in the U.S. military. GS-15 officers are part of our upper management structure and they occupy a number of important billets graded at the SIS level. Advancement to the SIS is subject to a highly competitive panel ranking procedure as well as SIS headroom. As Chairman of the E Career Service, I can assure you that E Career Service officers are carefully evaluated by the panel. I am satisfied that their careers are not being impaired by rotational tours.

Sincerely,

25X1
